Musical Instrument Care Guide

Whether you are a beginning musician or a seasoned professional, proper care of your musical instrument is vital to your musical journey. Just like a beloved pet, your instrument needs love and care. Check out these tips below to ensure you and your musical friend share a lifetime of happiness and joy together!

- Like pets, your instrument loves attention. You should play with it every day. They get lonely without you!
- Check over your instrument regularly to make sure it is healthy and happy!
- Take your instrument to your local repair shop at least twice a year (just like a vet visit). They will check over your instrument to make sure it's in good working order, and catch problems early to avoid costly and timely repairs!
- Keep your instrument well-groomed with swabs, polishing cloths, and pad savers. A clean and sanitary instrument will love you forever!
- DON'T LEAVE YOUR INSTRUMENT IN A HOT OR COLD VEHICLE! Just like a pet, instruments will get very sick if left in extreme environments. Bring it into the store or appointment with you to avoid instrumental catastrophes!
